

Set Up:

Larger globs of

--white

--black

--yellow

--blue

Small glob of

--red

Brushes:

--round

--1/2" flat

Paint background
(You can use all palette colors except save black for foreground image)

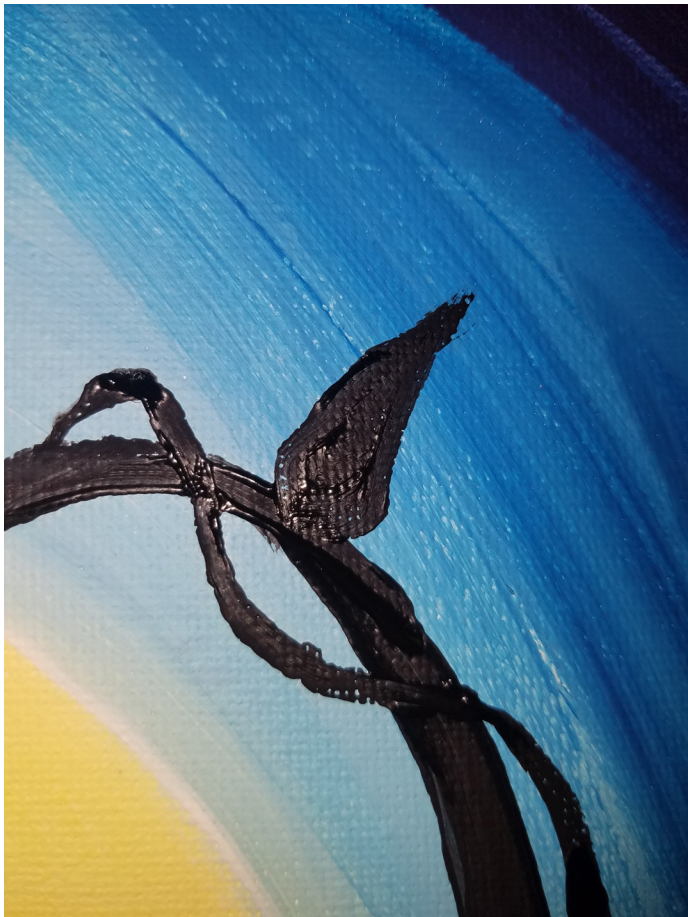

Thin-to-thick lines should vaguely resemble a heart and frame the highlight in the middle

Give it some ominous looking vines (scientific latin name: lil squiggle bois)

Throw in a few leaves (not too big bc they'll over shadow the birds if they're too big)

Yeahhhhhh look at that back-lit lil scene

Wow you're doing great with your liberal arts degree
I'm so glad you went to college for this

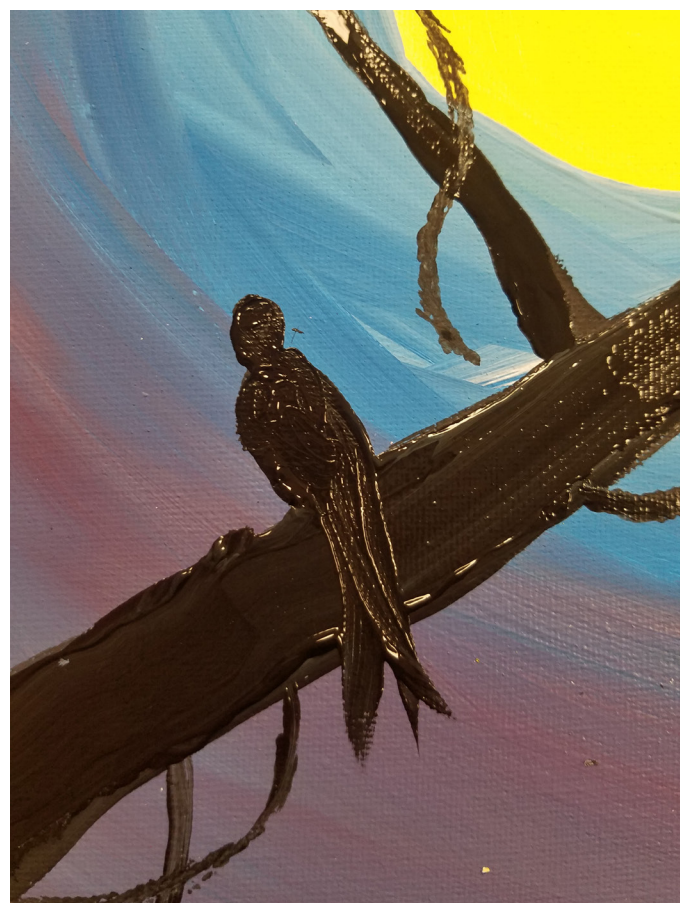

Example step-by-step bird (first construct two ovals or tear drops for it's tail feather, then a fat body, then a circle head, then a lil triangle of a beak)

More bird examples

(You need 2 lil lover bois unless you want to do a love triangle which is cool too)

Yeahhhhhhhh boooiii look at this guy you're doing so great at painting
